

BIBLIOGRAPHY

Most of the books and periodicals listed are in the University Library. Familiarise yourselves with the archaeology, art and history sections. The library of our History of Art Dept may also prove useful. The University Library Deansgate building also has many useful periodicals on reference and houses rare and very expensive books. Manchester City Library has a good collection of Anglo-Saxon art and history books and of periodicals; some of this material is on open shelf in the Social Sciences and Art Libraries, some is on reference -- consult the catalogue in the Social Sciences Library.
